Sections of the Code considered3.3. Service levels

3.3.1. Members will not offer or promise services that they are unable to provide.

3.3.2. Services must not be unreasonably prolonged or delayed.

9. Competitions9.1. Provision of information

9.1.1. Any promotional material for a competition service must clearly display the full cost to enter the competition and any cost to the user to obtain the prize.

9.3. General provisions

9.3.1. Competition services must have a specific closing date, except where there are instant prize-winners. An insufficient number of entries or entries of inadequate quality are not acceptable reasons for changing the closing date of a competition or withholding prizes. Once the closing date for a competition is reached, the advertised prizes must be awarded, notwithstanding the number of entries.

11. Subscription services11.1. Manner of subscription

11.1.2. Any request from a customer to join a subscription service must be an independent transaction, with the specific intention of subscribing to a service. A request from a subscriber to join a subscription service may not be a request for a specific content item.

Decision

This complaint is one of a number of complaints which have been lodged with WASPA regarding this promotion / service. Pursuant to the rulings made by the emergency panel and myself in related formal adjudication reports, the IP has been held to have contravened section 11.1.2 of the Code.

The subscription of the complainant to the service was therefore also in contravention of the Code. Despite being unsubscribed from the service, the complainant is also entitled to a refund for all charges levied to his account.

From the log records it appears that the complainant was charged 5 x R10.

Sanction

The SP is ordered to refund the amount of R50.00 (in South African rand only) to the complainant within 7 (seven) days of receiving notice of this adjudication report.
